

LIST OF RESOURCES FOR THE SELF-REPRESENTED LITIGANT

<https://texaslawhelp.org/>

TexasLawHelp.org, is a website dedicated to providing free, reliable legal information to low-income Texans. It is completely free to use. You will never be charged for using any resources on this website.

<http://www.texascourthelp.org/>

It's always best to have a lawyer. This website will give you information about making your way through the court system, but it is important to remember that the information provided is basic, general information only and may not cover everything that is involved in your case. The information on this website is not legal advice, and does not take the place of talking to a lawyer.

<https://www.sll.texas.gov/>

The Texas State Law Library serves the legal research needs of the citizens of the state. It is a public law library.

<http://www.txcourts.gov/rules-forms/forms/>

This is a page from the Office of Court Administration website. This site provides a list of approved forms for use in Texas Courts, with links to access those forms.

<http://www.txcourts.gov/programs-services/legal-aid/>

This is a page from the Office of Court administration website. This page provides links to other resources for the self-represented litigant.

<https://www.texasbar.com/Content/NavigationMenu/LawyersGivingBack/LegalAccessDivision/ReferralDirectory.pdf>

The State Bar of Texas can offer you referrals to low-cost civil legal services agencies in your area. For a listing of legal service providers by county, see the Referral Directory for Low-Income Texans (PDF).

https://www.texasbar.com/AM/Template.cfm?Section=Lawyer_Referral_Service_LRIS_

To get a lawyer referral anytime, please visit this online service. Please note that this is an automated system and the attorney you are referred to may not match your specific requirements. If you find this has happened to you, please call us during our business hours to speak with one of our helpful referral staff members.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IPj-OPNwr9U&feature=plcp>
State Justice Institute video on YouTube about legal services.

<http://www.srln.org/>

The Self-Represented Litigation Network (SRLN) is the only non-profit supporting justice system professionals focused on the question of how best to reform all aspects of the legal system (courts, legal aid, the bar and non-legal partners) so that SRLs experience the courts (and indeed the legal system) as a consumer oriented environment guided by the principles of equal protection and due process. SRLN is a resource center that provides toolkits, evaluation, implementation guidance and thought leadership; we are a network that connects and supports reform minded leaders throughout the country; and offer a geospatial data and analysis hub for the civil justice space.